

garage sale (sprzedaż „garażowa” tj. pozbywanie się zbędnych przedmiotów po wyjątkowo niskich cenach)

Viewers must sort through an unlabeled mass of cooking implements, kerosene lamps, manual typewriters, wooden eagles, rusty bicycles, cut-glass decanters and antique chests – it’s like being at a garage sale.

gate (skandal)

Since Watergate, the 1970s political scandal that ended the Nixon presidency, visible unethical activities in the U.S. are commonly referred to as ‘gates’.

golden parachute (specjalne przywileje emerytalne dla kadry kierowniczej)

Investors and analysts argue that top Korona executives have the wrong incentive to sell – golden parachutes – paying as much as $19 million and new jobs waiting in the wings.

grapevine (plotka)

People in the human resource department need to manage communications effectively so that the grapevine is not the main source of information.

greasy spoon (tania restauracja)

Today’s diners must overcome an image, often incorrect, of a greasy spoon.

hardball (agresywna konkurencja)

Micro Comp plays Hardball: the use of Exclusionary Pricing in Markets for Operating System Software.